THE STAY

From north to south (more or less!), some of our favorite hotels and homes across the country.

CATALONIA

TORRE DEL REMEI
Bolvir

.....

VIU EMPORDÀ
Costa Brava:

“I love their collection of houses in l’Empordà and Costa Brava. All of them are private homes owned by architects, winemakers, entrepreneurs from l’Empordà.

Each property has its own soul, and when you stay there you can tell it’s someone’s house, there is always this aura that makes it special.” —Júlia Juste, founder of Outliers Guide

.....

PARADOR DE TORTOSA
Tortosa

“A fabulous, domineering castle on the hill with wooden balconies that overlook the town’s roofs, the Ebro River, and beyond. You can practically see the sea over the delta flats.” —Louis Anthony Woodbine, chef and food-and-wine educator

.....

CASA DOMENC
Arén

“Although it’s in a town with a tiny population of 300, this amazing 250-year-old inn on the village square has a deep cellar of Spanish wines.”

—Matt Hranek

CAP SA SAL
Begur

.....

HOTEL MAS DE TORRENT
Torrent

“A small hotel in an 18th-century Catalan farmhouse.”

—Elsa Melero, photographer and director

CADAQUES

“For a cozy stay, Casa Nereta has boutique charm, while Hotel Playa Sol boasts a central location by the water. Airbnb has good options; search “Casita Margot en Cadaques Unique” and “Wonderful views central and calm tree house.” —James Widegren, photographer and creative director

AIRE DE BARDENAS, NAVARRE

HOTEL MARIA CRISTINA, BASQUE COUNTRY

NAVARRE

AIRE DE BARDENAS
Tudela

“A minimalist and very chic hotel at the edge of the Bardenas Reales Natural Park. It’s completely lunar—even if you aren’t staying in one of their Bubble Rooms.”

—Yolanda Edwards

.....

NARBASU
Cereceda

“Narbasu, a dreamy hotel set in a former 19th-century Asturian palace, is my happy place. A light clinking of cowbells will slowly wake you in the morning and you can perch your head out the window to see a misty view of the Picos de Europa.”
—Jenn Rice, journalist

CASTILE Y LEON

EL MONASTERIO DE

.....

CASTILLO DEL
BUEN AMOR
Topas

“Take a dip in the medieval moat turned swimming pool, sip wine in the castle courtyard and get lost in the labyrinthine halls of this 11th-century fortress.”
—Scarlett James, founder of Petite Suitcase

.....

HOTEL CASERÍO
ALDEALLANA
Segovia

“An 1800s farmhouse converted into a luxury B&B, thanks to the extraordinary work of the interior designer Isabel López-Quesada and Rocío, the owner, who rescued pieces from attics and old antiques to decorate the hotel with her own style.” —Beatriz de los Mozos, founder of Flabelus

FINCA CORTESIN, ANDALUCÍA

CORTIJO DEL MARQUÉS
Albolote

“We arrived from Madrid with grand plans—after all, the Alhambra was 35 kilometers away.

We swam, drank tintos with sparkling water and oranges, and ate three courses each night, inhaling olive oil as if it was wine. A week passed before we recalled our plans, remembered our boat tickets to Tangier, and became vaguely cognizant that a world remained outside of the Cortijo walls.”

—Madeline Weinfeld, writer

“A beyond-beautiful
new property in the Tramuntana mountains,
a World Heritage site.

Meem was conceived
by Jessica and Albert, who used to live in Barcelona.

They’ve transformed
a historic townhouse into what feels like a second home, with beautifully
designed rooms in a sleek
and reduced architecture.”
